It's a response.

I KNOW, RIGHT?

Li'l ole irrelevant me could never, ever get a response from it. It's been doing such a superlative job of ignoring this site (wink, wink) and staying below the radar where I can't see it (nudge, nudge). It's got this newfound self control now, and it never goes silently trolling where it's not wanted... otherwise how would it know, and why would it care who was trolling it soooo veeeery HARD?

Wait. What?

That's a response?

Oh

I guess it is, isn't it?

It has called me irrelevant before, and it will call me irrelevant again.
(Makes no nevermind to me. Because all it's told me so far today is a) it's visiting every day and b) where it is going to live.

Rule #4.

Because DUMBFUCK.

UPDATE - Irrelevant?

Let's review:

I trolling sooooo veeeerrrry haaaaard. As promised. Two weeks.

It visits every day from the Crappy WiFi Arms. Every. Day. If it really wants me to go away...Two weeks.

I made a promise, and I will keep it, but not before it holds up its end of the deal. But I know I'll never have to, because...Two weeks...is impossible.

And the clock just reset again. Two weeks.

It will stop. I promise. The only requirement is that it goes away and stops doing this:

Relational Equilibrium

In physics, there is the concept of thermal equilibrium, which simply states that two objects at different temperatures will reach thermal equilibrium because heat energy will flow from high temperature to low temperature. For example, a cup of hot coffee left to stand will eventually cool to room temperature. The small amount of coffee cools down, and the great big kitchen warms up, if only a tiny bit.

From an empirical perspective, this tends to hold true in personal interactions as well. The physics of relationships, to coin a phrase, show that intelligence tends to flow from areas of high concentration to low concentration. If you hang around with people smarter than you, you tend to learn things and get smarter. If you hang around with people stupider than you, you tend to get stupid.

For me, this begs the question: what if you have a person and an imaginary, inflatable, photoshopped sister-type person, both at, for lack of a better term, "absolute stupid?"

Message Body:

Did you guys actually do a BACKGROUND CHECK before admitting Bill Schmalfeldt to apartment 108 of Juniper Court?

Since the Catholics have had so much trouble with pedophiles, you'd think you might think twice before housing a disgusting man who blogged rape fantasies about children (just google "Schmalfeldt cub scouts rape")

Since you guys are on the legal hook for any crimes Schmalfeldt commits, you'd just might want to check out the RESTRAINING ORDERS he's been slapped with in a half-dozen states. (And just check out his record on the Maryland State Courts site.)

Schmalfeldt is a chronic stalker and harasser with an explosive temper. When he victimizes more people, we WILL make sure their lawyers know that YOU knew all about him, but FAILED to sever ties with him.

Beware of Juniper resident William M. Schmalfeldt. He has a record of chronic stalking of his imagined "enemies" Sooner or later, that will include you, and he will victimize, harass and stalk you and your family. Just google Bill Schmalfeldt for his record of 6 restraining orders, lengthy criminal complaints in the Maryland State Courts, and getting fired for blogging a child-rape fantasy on the internet.

Needless to say, now that you have been warned of Schmalfeldts criminal tendencies, you will be held responsible in the press and the civil courts when Schmalfeldt harasses innocent people using Juniper's shelter and internet connections.

I reached out to my little buddies.

One of them, Rubin, was the source of all that wonderful information received in an FOIA request that became the pair of posts that showed "Jason Vale" Bill Schmalzfeldt were buddies during his second tour in the Navy for which there is no evidence that he earned. Rubin reminded me that tucked away in the mass of information was a bit of data that should have been redacted but wasn't. (Organic Prognosis, NPBC)

That piece of data was completely irrelevant to that story, so I didn't use it. There was no need.

But to find out what I wanted to know now, that information would come in very useful.

All states have web sites for driver services. Many allow drivers to check the status of their license online. A few have systems for searching out this information based on information other than a driver's license number.

I asked another source, Jay, to look into this. Jay confirmed for me that Wisconsin is such a state and, armed with the wealth of personal information that Overlander Bill Schmalzfeldt has left online over many years, went pulling at the Wisconsin DMV.

The first thing they ask for is a driver's license number.

State of Wisconsin
Department of Transportation

Driver License Lookup

Do you have your Wisconsin Driver License / ID Number? ☒ Yes ☐ No

Jay did not have a number. Not then.

The next screen asks for two bits of information that Bill Schmalzfeldt has readily made part of the public record. And one that my buddy Rubin remembered. That's the redacted field, which I am not sharing as a matter of responsible journalism.

Lazy, no-account slug Bill Schmalfeldt, who surrendered his drivers license in 2009 because Parkinson's Lazyfuck's disease gave him an excuse to further bind the captive nurse to him, has acquired a Wisconsin driver's license.

For the record, I will note that one redacted portion of the image above is the actual driver's license number. While this will make future searches easier, there is no reason to share it.

Any responsible journalist would do the same.

Unfortunately, this story is about an irresponsible fake journalist with pretend ethics that apply only to others and not to him, Bill Schmalfeldt.

This new driver's license begs several questions:

- Why would a shitsniffing DUMBFUCK who surrendered his license in 2009 – ostensibly due to the accelerating symptoms of a progressive neurological disorder – need a new one?
- Why would the turddrolling toddlerstalker ever think it would be wise for him to get back on the road, after seven years of complaining that the targets of his stalking and harassment are only EXACERBATING his symptoms by asking him to stop?
- Why would a lying, vexatious litigant who claims to be unable to travel outside the range of his MedicAlert device without risking his very life even need a driver's license?
- Wouldn't this toss a serious wrench in his claims that he is unable to travel to court appearances in far-off jurisdictions?
- Could it be the NINJANUNS look askance on the frequent door-to-door deliveries of budget spirits?
- Does he even own a car?

That final question I answered myself. How I did so will remain a secret. But...

Based on your address, we found the following:

1999
Ford Explorer

Bill "I Can't Drive, I Can't Travel, I'm A Pauper, Find Me A Captive Lawyer" Schmalfeldt BOUGHT HIMSELF A CAR!

Can I prove it?

Enter Little Birdie Number 3 – Paul Krendler's personal Agent Starling.

I asked Agent Starling if it would be possible to find and photograph a 1999 Ford Explorer parked at Cantide and Juniper Courts.

"Easy."

"Easy."

I'll bet this car can make it to Maryland and back.

Now – what conclusions can a reasonable zombie draw from this?

In 2009, a so-called man (actually a proven serial liar) gives up his driver's license, admitting that Parkinson's disease renders him unsafe at any speed. Seven years later, with no mate to fetch his footlongs, mail his legal laff riots, wash his droopy drawers or recycle his whiskey bottles, he buys a car. Because if there's one thing certain about progressive neurological disorders like Parkinson's disease – it gets better, not worse, over time.

So, is Bill Schmalfeldt faking?

That's not for me to say. I just publish all the relevant facts, and let the reader make their own decision.

And the relevant facts are:

1. By his own admission, Bill Schmalfeldt gave up his driver's license in 2009, because Parkinson's disease made it unsafe for him to drive.
2. Parkinson's disease is a progressive neurological disorder. It only gets worse, never better.
3. By his own description, totally disabled, wheelchair bound dating machine Bill Schmalfeldt, whose voice is now so ragged that he can no longer perform a podcast, whose stress-related Parkinson's symptoms are so advanced that opening a tub of horse poop causes him to keel over, is deeper into late stage ELEVENTYVILIAR Parkinson's disease than ever before.
4. In 2016, alleged Parkinson's disease sufferer Bill Schmalfeldt got a driver's license and bought a 1999 Ford Explorer.

Draw your own conclusions.

If I was still in the drug, I would absolutely link to it. But criminals are a cowardly lot in of course, I don't. "Cherchez l'homme" is taken. "Vil à dire vilain, the old French, 'villain'?"

She responds with a healthy belch/fart combination. Again the plates rattle and for a moment Hope fears some may fall from the crude plate holders his son made as part of his occupational training at that special school he went to for all those many, many years.

He looks at his combined output for the past week. Contributions have dwindled to nothing. So has his fan base. Oh, they're prolific, but they are few.

Sixteen Apostles. More than Jesus had. So there's that. And they attend his every word, like true disciples. They would kill if he ordered them to. And it might come to that. He would turn to Kiernan, the felon or Palestine Pundit, the self-professed nut case if it ever came to that.

Hope knows he has an epistle in him. He knows he has wisdom to impart. The problem is, the apostles are incapable of absorbing wisdom. It's like trying to communicate with starlings. He has their love. Their devotion. But he knows he has something even more valuable.

He owns their hate. All he need do is start a thread about the Evil One, and his Team Lickspittle will fall into line and do the work he has neither the patience nor the belly to do for himself.

Now that Brenda's try. Mean, the therapist and the only thing that that was an uncomfortable peace order. Well, there's more than one way to make a problem.

"Are you talking about me, Daddy?" said Hope, looking at the spots

"Go back to your room and masturbate, son. Daddy's thinking." Up

The Hope legacy: The proud Hodge lineage will end with TV. It has long since been understood that Brenda won't touch him. Murdering her is out of the question since she makes the real money.

"Never mind, never mind," he grumbles to himself. "Must think must think."

There it comes on him like a 350 watt lightbulb with no shade, glowing in the dark corners of his brain.

"He's Berlin is beyond my reach. Not Schmafeist. HAH! He could die any day. Have you seen how much weaker he looked in January than he looked a year ago, he looks no one."

"Schmafeist!" his wife belches. She is still pretty, but the bitterness has ruined her mind. Sad.

Schmafeist will pay for Kimberlin's crimes. He knows Schmafeist, the CARIN BOY, knows more about the nefarious evil of Kimberlin than he lets on. If I squeeze that zit, it will pop. He redoubles his that he has just squeezed it to his own forehead. The pus and blood mix like octopus and mayonnaise from the edge of a burger.

"Yes, a burger," he says to himself. First a burger, then the blog."

He realizes all he needs to do is offer a simple, not-particularly-inflammatory blog post about Schmalfeldt. It doesn't need to be inflammatory. The lickspittles will make it so with their comments. And it's THEIR comments that are defamatory. Not his, he gloats. THEY are the defamers, not me, he says as he reaches the kitchen, opens the mayo jar and recoils from the smell. There is no fresh jar in the cupboard.

"DAMN IT STRAIGHT TO BLEEDING HELL," he shrieks. "Not tonight," his wife shurs from under a blanket of tabloid newspapers, glares with baleful contempt in his eyes at the first and only woman he has ever touched.

He pads back to the computer and poots forth a few words about some LIE he will invent as told by the horrible, criminal, inept Cabin Boy.

He hits the "send button," and feels a feeling of comfortable warmth.

"DAMN IT STRAIGHT TO JESUS!" he shrieks as he realizes he has wet himself yet again.

Editor's Note, Part 2: This is the post that has been so ably parodied elsewhere and reprinted here.

This post is NOT harassment. But making fun of it, is. This post is NOT hateful. But making fun of it, is.

Poor disabled Bill Schmalfeldt, who until about a week ago was still creating 60+ minute podcasts, now uses text-to-speech software on his book promotion videos to highlight how helpless he really is. Because he can't speak more than a sentence without lapsing into coughing fits. According to him, Poor Bill Schmalfeldt, so worried and anxious about others attacking his family and causing his wife distress. Poor, poor, pitiful Bill.

Sorry, Bill. It's just that you have spent too many years thinking you're the big dog on the block. And now, little dog, the truly big dogs are here, and we've had enough of your yapping.

The author failed to mention that he has multiple restraining orders and is going to court yet again for writing and harassing people on the internet. As you can clearly see from excerpts of his works, they consist of irrational dyspeptic bouts of rage of an unsettled mind. His "investigative" techniques are none - he has neither traveled or "interviewed" any of the parties in the summary of this book and the potential buyer should be very wary of anything he says or writes. He is forever an certified adjudicated serial harasser in at least one state. He also has been banned by twitter, the Examiner, The Daily Kos some for the very material he is presenting in this book. He has threatened reviewers of his books. He just threatened reviewers with legal action.

The author's book is under review for twitter comments - reviewing excerpts posted by the author this is a repeat of a long campaign of harassment and was furthered by a loss in Maryland Courts by Mr. Schmalfeldt. Read his website for giving you a solid background of the depths of nastiness that has convinced judges to grant peace orders and to uphold them on appeal.

By T.E. on August 29, 2014

This is an interesting book as written by a lay person and his court battle against people who seems to have a vendetta against the author. The usage of the legal documents, while dry to read, illustrate what it is like to self defend in cases brought against them. It seems scary to see all the legalities one has to go through in order to protect oneself from harassment not only in the real world, but with today's technology on the internet as well.

Anonymity seems to be the key issue the author faced. How does one protects one's own safety against those who can hide behind the mask of anonymity and have friends with the means to defend them? How can one overcome someone seemingly bent on using the legal system in order to get to their own goals? What can an ordinary person do when face with something like this?

This should be a wake up call for anyone who is online. It could happen to you! Who is to say who will be the next target of online bullying spilling over into the legal system. The country's laws about this kind of behavior needs some serious looking into. I would hate to be in the Author's position.

MY sources for all my information comes from – wait for it – Bill Schmalfeldt – he admitted online that his child audio rape fantasies were “explicit” He also said numerous times that they had to meet a penetration standard and in subsequent child rape fantasies even said hey no anal that would be against the law – so to speak – but fondling and oral were okay

So not only did he admit to making child rape pornography he said it was legal child rape pornography because there was no penetration....

Speechless.....

ZOMG you guys! He's doing it AGAIN! Is it a day that ends in a "Y"?

That article, which can be found HERE is the beginnings of Billy trying, yet again, to doxx me. And guess what! Maybe he FINALLY FOUND THE REAL ME! Oh Noes! Whatever shall I do? Wherever shall I go? I'm skeert! I must do EVERYTHING HE SAYS!!!!!!1!!!

No, not really, actually. lol

But Bill is MAD about SoMEthiNG! and he's gonna take it out on ME! Because I'm the one who quotes him accurately, and then adds my little bits of commentary and allows you zombie horde members to have some fun pointing and laughing.

Ew. Beds made and ready for sleeping? That doesn't sound creepy Bill. Not in the slightest, no, no, no.

Bill, you seem to think that anything that makes you mad is defamation. You said the words. YOU SAID THEM. And I usually try my best to keep them in a reasonable amount of context, although some things just need to be pull-quoted to stand on their own because they are just that LULZY.

In no meaning of the word is quoting your words defamation. Neither is making up hilarious riffs on them. Neither is twisting them, although we really don't need to do that with you, now do we? You do it well enough yourself. And having my own opinion of your words and expressing it isn't defamation either.

You have never been reasonable, at least not in the interactions with you that I have observed nor in the ones we have had personally. Because behind everything you say is malevolence and a sense of "I want you to do what I want you to do OR ELSE." People tend to have bad reactions to that, Bill.

As to Eric. It is his OPINION that you are selling kiddie porn. Me? I can see where it would be classified as kiddie porn, but not that it would get a person necessarily arrested. I might wish that was the case, but you can't have everything in this life, you know? And yes, you are selling it from your apartment. So, since it is his opinion plus a truth, guess what? He gets to say it.

As to Krendler? Aren't you the one who supposedly STARTED Thinking Man's Zombie?

handing it over to someone else. I mean, you said so both in your book and on your blog. Yeah, that's really going to go over well when you try to sue Krendler, yet again, for something that you said you did. You just really know how to fuck yourself over, don't you? And you do it so well and so thoroughly I'm surprised you aren't begging yourself for mercy. Then again, maybe you are begging yourself for something, just not what a normal person would... Oh dear lord. I need brain bleach now. shudder

Your protestations that you wanted to leave everything all behind when you left Maryland? Yeah, if I'm remembering correctly, I went COMPLETELY DARK. Until you decided to start up again with people. I was HAPPY to not have to document your assininity. Very, very happy. I would like to be happy again Bill. And you are keeping me from true happiness! QUIT DOING WHAT YOU DO! Then I can be happy. sob!

You are free to respond to what you deem are lies. Have I revoked your posting privileges? But when you start trying to control people? To control me? That's where you lose and lose HARD. When have I threatened you? Instead, you threaten me. That doesn't make me a very happy zombie, Bill. Don't threaten the zombie.

Because she just might have to laugh at you. Again. And again.

And we all know that that's what you really don't like.

So yes. Fuck Off And Die is my response to your attempt at threats and intimidation. Your choice if it's in a fire or not. I have no real preference.

I think so, Brain ... but not needing AAA doesn't mean that someone no longer needs AA.

Day drinking just begun I'm guessing. The cycle goes: start the day dreaming of his man crush Trump in homo-erotic fashion, then teach law on twitter because Schmalfeldt is law, Hoge not law, and finally end the day back to dreaming about his dream lover Trump.

You're no Melania, Billy!

To be fair, I kinda dont blame Mr. Fakinsons for having a man crush.

Let's see... Hoge is well educated, scintillating wit, awe-some career in an amazing scientific field, knows and knows how to dress.

Seems to tick the man crush boxes to me.

Wow, Bill what courage! You went after an account that you have blocked. What a man! What a stud! Your blow up boyfriend must be impressed at how courageous you are to report an account you can't even see unless you log out and go looking for it. Of course most of us have a name for behavior like that. It's called being a cowardly little bitch. One day you'll surprise everyone and at least have the courage to beat up a toddler.....oh wait....a toddler kicked your ass in court.

At least Bill today has demonstrated he knows how to contact twitter and can fulfill document and discovery requests now. Granted it will be embarrassing in the future to have to ask them for account information on a website he is currently using and has been banned from.

Hey, if you're involved in a lawsuit where one of the complaints is that someone maliciously targeted a Twitter account, what better tactic could there be than to admit you targeted a Twitter account and got it banned?

The Thinking Man's Zombie

Free zombies could help bring about world peace and save lives. Zombies and the zombie apocalypse are just what you need to be funny and to see world in a new light.

Why yes. Stalking is all Bill Schmalfeldt has and he's so very, VERY good at it. How kind of him to admit it.

And, in case he doesn't remember.

Four. Covering six. Across three. In five.

Actually, I love my lulcow so much precisely because he isn't very good at stalking. The overwhelming majority of the time, he winds up stalking the wrong person and gets a shiny new restraining order for the collection.

Watching Bill Schmalfeldt "investigate" is a lot like watching a cat run into a glass door. And as anybody who has ever owned a cat knows, it never gets less funny.

And for bonus giggles, he abandons the cat whenever he feels the need to flee whatever state he's in at the time.

Name one other person in human history that lost in court to an unrepresented three year old.

That's our Bill.

'Tis true. It's always funny watching cats run into glass doors. You know when you have a smart one when they only do it once. Bill keeps doing it over and over and over again.

Good grief. And, now Stalky McStalker Schmalfeldt has a Stalky McStalker "Sweetie" to help him obsess over Krendler and The Zombie Horde.

These worthless, loony-leftist goons have all the time in the world to stalk and harass and curse their betters online... all thanks to hard-working taxpayers, and the generosity of those willing to give them handouts and donate to their GoFeedMe "fundraisers."

Living online, on lies, and largesse. Two sleaze in a pod.

i'm still not convinced "sweetie" is actually real, consider we have all seen Shakes having conversations with his own socks on Twitter and his (many times deleted then renamed) blogs after all. HOWEVER if she should turn out to be real, I hope she likes being a beard. IYKWIMAITYD

boy it's a good thing Shakey has no family that gives a shit about him, otherwise he'd be 5150 and we'd have nothing this good to PLM.

Hey, Unca Biwwy is showing some consistency for almost the first time in the years it has been my displeasure to be aware of him! I seem to recall him accusing John Hoge of stalking for precisely the same reasons, noting how many times UB had visited by looking at his own (John looking at John's own) visitor logs.

But if UB looks at his visitor logs and sees a single visit from anywhere near where he thinks one his harassment victims lives, that's just fine, and keeping track of what's going on.

As they say, without double standards he wouldn't have any standards at all.
